Village Will Install Parking Meter Fine Boxes as Convenience

Edgar Simonsen Re-elected Fire Chief for His Sixth Term

Persons who draw parking tickets soon will be able to pay their fines merely by dropping the amount of the penalty in an envelope attached to each ticket and depositing it in a nearby box.

The village board last evening purchased at $22.50 each four boxes which will be attached to meter posts at corners or at spaced intervals. The boxes were obtained from the Duncan Meter Corp., represented by Robert Hardman, former resident of rural Antioch who is the district agent for the company.

Hardman apologized for the laxity of his agent in servicing Antioch and regretted the fact that meters recently purchased by the village were not his own like he had furnished before.

Board members complained that the Duncan-Miller meters were susceptible to breakage and Hardman displayed a new model that eliminates the fault. He proposed to replace meters of the other make without cost and to supply later style mechanism for the old meters at $65 each.

The board took the proposition under consideration.

In other business the board re-elected Edgar Simonsen to the post of fire chief for the sixth year, and voted expense money for two firemen to attend the fire college for special training June 20 to 24 at Springfield. Chief Simonsen and Otto Hanke will be the delegates.

Memorial Day Program Was Quite Successful, Parade Big, Complete

Antioch's Memorial Day program was quite successful. The parade was the largest in years and, according to Parade Marshal Ed Jahnke, all organizations cooperated to the fullest extent.

The speaker, Rep. Jack Bairstow of Waukegan, introduced by Tony Sciacero, master of ceremonies, told the large audience at the village park that Memorial Day is one of the country's most valued holidays because it gives time and opportunity for the people to stop and revere those who have given their lives in all wars.

While Memorial Day dates back to the Civil War, its purpose is to pay respect to those who have died for this country in all wars regardless of the date.

The Gold Star Mothers had the privilege of placing a wreath at the plaque honoring those who died during the World Wars. The D. G. A. R. later placed a wreath at the G. A. R. monument in Hillside cemetery.

The service ended with the firing of a salute by the firing squad and the sounding of taps with echo effects.

The high school band played two numbers and the prayers were given by the Rev. Alfred Henderson and the Rev. Howard Benson.

The event was planned by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion and their auxiliaries. Civic groups, boy and girl scout organizations, village protection officials and organizations, and business men participated in the parade. Their marching was good and much comment was made concerning the excellence of the marching of the young people.

Lake Villa Has Good Program
Lake Villa also had a good service. The Lake Villa post of the American Legion and the Antioch Lake Villa V. F. W. had charge of the program and parade in the forenoon.

Rep. Bairstow spoke there, dealing with the subject of Memorial Day much as he did in Antioch. The parade was from the school to the park.

Antioch, Grayslake Champs
Antioch High became co-winner of the Northwest Conference baseball championship with Grayslake. The Rams beat Wauconda in the final game and like Antioch finished the season with 10 victories and four losses. Both will be privileged to have a championship cup.

District Meeting Held
A district meeting of the Moose was held last evening at Crystal Lake. Officers of Lake and McHenry counties were present. They made plans for a district picnic to be held Aug. 29 at the McHenry V. F. W. park.

Sale of Newport's Old School Buildings Voted

Newport Township Consolidated School district voted last Saturday to sell the three one-room school buildings which will no longer be needed when the district's new building is placed into use next year. Only 10 persons took time to vote.

To be sold at auction June 19 are the West Newport, Lone Oak, and Rosecrans buildings and grounds.

Two votes were cast in opposition to the Lone Oak School, but the sale carried 17 to 2.

Commencement Tonight To See Graduation of 79 A.T.H.S. Seniors

The curtain will fall on the high school career of 79 seniors at Antioch Township High School this evening.

Dr. William Clyde Donald II, Milwaukee, who also will be the commencement speaker at Warren Township High school tomorrow evening, will deliver the commencement address on the subject "Discover and Use Your Real Ability." The high school chorus will sing three numbers.

The service will be in the gymnasium.

One of the largest crowds ever to attend a baccalaureate program in the school attended the service for the graduating class last Sunday evening.

Rev. John Barbee of the Lakeland Baptist church told the class that all persons should have goals toward which they should work and suggested that these goals should be of the spiritual rather than the material.

The a cappella choir sang three numbers and Jaclyn Martin played the processional and recessional.

Many of the graduates are planning more advanced schooling next year and the schools of their choice will be announced later.

Methodists Will Open Church School June 14

The Antioch Methodist church will hold its annual vacation church school from Monday, June 14 to Friday, June 25, during the hours of 9 to 11:30 a.m. regular school days.

Registration is starting and pupils will be accepted from 4 through 14 years of age. Any child may attend.

To register information concerning pupil's name, age, parents' name, and address may be sent to Mrs. Frances William, Box 501, Antioch, or by telephone to No. 127.

New Route Started

A third rural route from the Lake Villa post office was started Tuesday, serving Venetian Village with the exception of the Lindenhurst area. Delbert L. Shewey is the temporary carrier. He was a substitute carrier for the other two routes.

June 9 to be Deadline for Legion Queen Entries Joan Cervenka, Last Year's Queen, Tells of Trip

June 9 has been set as the deadline for entries in the American Legion Carnival Queen contest.

The girl who obtains the most votes will get an all-expense four-day trip to Washington, D. C., accompanied by her mother. They may go by train or by airplane to give them more time at the nation's capital.

The crowning will take place on July 10, according to William Lehti who has been made chairman of the committee in charge of the event.

Last year Joan Cervenka was the winner and she made the trip accompanied by her aunt. Writing of the trip she said:

"On July 18 of last year, I won the American Legion Carnival Queen contest. For my prize, I was awarded a four-day all-expense paid trip to Washington, D. C., accompanied by my aunt, Mrs. George Cervenka. We decided to make the trip in the fall and we chose to travel by air.

The day finally arrived when our dream trip became a reality. On Tuesday, Sept. 8, my aunt and I drove to Midway Airport in Chicago.

To see those huge planes circle the field and perform with such ease made me think how wonderful this trip would be. I was excited and could hardly wait to board the plane. I'm sure my aunt felt the same way. I was glad she did because this was her first vacation in thirty-five years. I had, in all sincerity, entered this contest with the purpose of her in mind.

D. G. A. R. Gives All Of Its Mementos and Possessions to Legion

Closes Books Through Placement of Wreath on G.A.R. Monument

Mementos and other possessions of Monroe fortress No. 8, Daughters of the Grand Army of the Republic were turned over to the American Legion and its Auxiliary following the Memorial Day parade and service Monday.

Presentation was made at the Legion Home with Mrs. Drucilla Ferris, Mrs. Nellie B. Ray, Mrs. Addie Crowley, and Mrs. George Borovicka participating.

Mrs. Crowley made the presentation to Adjutant Roman Vos and Cmdr. Harry A. Mizock with these words:

"Since the Daughters of the Grand Army of the Republic are closing Fortress Monroe No. 8 of the State of Illinois on this Memorial Day, we are happy to present our flags, Bible, altar cloth, gavel and D. G. A. R. pin to the American Legion and its Auxiliary of Antioch. We know they will cherish these mementos and preserve them for posterity."

To Be Placed in Case

"All of the mementos will be placed in a case at the American Legion hall at a later date and will then be available for public observation. We are also happy to have the American Legion Auxiliary carry on for us."

Adjutant Vos then received the gifts and assured the D. G. A. R. that the Legion would take good care of them. He introduced Cmdr. Mizock who gave his assurance also.

Then the committee took a wreath to the G. A. R. monument at Hillside cemetery as the last act in closing the fortress.

Fortress Monroe was organized April 26, 1921 by Mrs. Nellie B. Ray of Perry L. Austin fortress No. 5 in Waukegan, a former Antioch resident. Mrs. Leonora Hughes was the first commander and Miss Lottie Jones the last, in 1944. Since then the fortress has been inactive.

The first will be held Saturday.

Those in charge said that all racers must have the written consent of their parents or they cannot enter the race. They must wear life jackets and crash helmets.

Most of the races will be outboard motor races.

Democrats Plan Dinner For State Candidates During June Convention

Springfield — Democratic State headquarters today announced a "kickoff" dinner to be held for state candidates and guests on Monday, June 28—the evening of the party's state convention. The dinner will be held at the Elks club in Springfield at 6:30 p.m.

U. S. Senator Mike Monroney (Dem., Okla.) will head a list of notable speakers which will include Adlai Stevenson, former governor of Illinois and Democratic candidate for president in the last election.

The Democratic "victory" team candidates will also address the guests. The candidates are: U. S. Senator Paul H. Douglas, candidate for re-election; David F. Mallett, candidate for state treasurer, and Mark A. Peterman, candidate for superintendent of public instruction.

The day finally arrived when our dream trip became a reality. On Tuesday, Sept. 8, my aunt and I drove to Midway Airport in Chicago.

To see those huge planes circle the field and perform with such ease made me think how wonderful this trip would be. I was excited and could hardly wait to board the plane. I'm sure my aunt felt the same way. I was glad she did because this was her first vacation in thirty-five years. I had, in all sincerity, entered this contest with the purpose of her in mind.

"At 10:00 a.m., a TWA plane was taking us to our destination.

The entire flight was two and a half hours long. We circled around the Potomac flying at such a sharp angle that I thought the wing was touching the water. Then, a thud and the motors ceased. We had arrived at the political seat of the Nation—Washington!

"We had reservations at the Hotel Statler. Upon our arrival, we received a telephone call from Mrs. Juanita Lowe, Secretary to the National Adjutant of the American Legion. She just wanted to confirm our arrival and tell us about a tour she had planned for us on the following day.

Bell Telephone Co. Presents Vail Citation To Mrs. Virginia Carney, Antioch Operator

For her alertness in summoning aid that saved the lives of the three children of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cermak Jan. 27, 1953, Mrs. Virginia Carney, Antioch telephone operator, received the Vail citation of the Bell Telephone Co. at a dinner in her honor at the Colony House last Friday noon.

Antioch village officials and representatives of civic bodies were present in witnessing the presentation, and beaming with pride over the honor shown her mother, was Paula Carney, daughter of the recipient, who like her mother is an operator. Mrs. Ruth Tidmarsh, chief operator, a newspaper representative and officials of the telephone company made up the rest of the diners.

The framed award which was presented to Mrs. Carney by A. F. Stephenson, general traffic manager, said:

"Illinois Bell Telephone Co., citation to Virginia E. Carney for her act of noteworthy public service on Jan. 27, 1953, who through her initiative, prompt action, and effective use of the telephone facilities she arranged for aid to reach three children who had been overcome by smoke and coal fumes."

Receives Other Gifts

In addition Mrs. Carney received the book "For Noteworthy Public Service" that explains the Vail award and contained the signatures of the guests.

A present from the Cermaks was given in their behalf to Mrs. Carney by John M. Littler, manager of the Libertyville-Antioch exchanges.

Manager Littler, serving as toastmaster, said it was a great satisfaction to him to know that there are many operators in this area who have given similar but perhaps not as noteworthy a service, but unfortunately their praises go unsung.

A. E. Vollum, district traffic superintendent, told of the origin of the Vail award, and told a little of the life of Mrs. Carney, who is a graduate of Stephens College and has been employed by the Antioch exchange since 1946. She manages her home in addition to her work as operator and has time to pursue her hobbies of collecting figurines and china.

Personal Service Still Needed

J. P. Hayes, division traffic manager, said the inventors have not yet come up with a signal that indicates an emergency.

"In this respect persons such as Mrs. Carney enter the picture," he said.

Hayes related the details of the event in which Mrs. Carney summoned Mr. and Mrs. Cermak from Smart's Country house telling them something was wrong at home where the eldest child had tried to call them, and then notified the rescue squad which found the three children unconscious and revived and the dead.

Joel Seres, 19, of 1621 N. Fairfield ave.

Gaspar De Stefano, 23, of 2720 Belden ave.

Delores Marie Jefferson, 17, of 1922 California ave.

Maryanne Czirny, 19, of 1322 N. Maplewood ave.

George Kostoss, 5, of 1520 N. Frontier st.

DeStefano was alive when the rescue squad arrived at the scene of the wreck, but he died while being taken to the hospital.

The accident occurred at 3:10 p.m. during a heavy downpour of rain. The car was going about .50 miles an hour and it is believed the driver never saw the train until the crash. The crossing is unprotected.

The 94-car train pulled by three diesel units, was going north about 45 miles an hour and the automobile crashed into the side of the first two units.

Two small Trevor boys, Charles Dexter and George Terrill witnessed the accident. They were standing in the shelter of a nearby gas station. Young Dexter ran home and told his father who notified authorities.

Deputy sheriffs said the convertible, a Nash Rambler, was rolled up like a steel ball.

Bodies were strung along the track and mutilated.

Miss Jefferson and Miss Czirny were in colorful bathing suits indicating the two couples and the youngster had been on a picnic at a nearby lake.

The bodies were taken to Chicago.

First Band Concert Of Community Group Monday Was Success

Rails Set Another Record

The railroads of the United States have issued a factual statement on the industry's experience last year. And the most striking phase of it, from the public's standpoint, is the tangible physical progress made in bettering railroad service.

A new record was set in operating efficiency—which means that the amount of transportation service performed each hour by the average freight train hit a new high. The main reason for that is found in the rails' huge post-war improvement program.

Last year the industry spent more than $1,200,000,000 on new equipment and facilities, making 1953 the sixth consecutive year in which its capital investment topped the billion-dollar mark. A highlight was the installation of more than 2,000 new locomotive units and 80,000 freight cars during the year.

As for the future, the railroads are pledged to continue their improvement program at the highest level which traffic, revenues and earnings will justify. Expenditures of about $800,000,000 for 1954 improvements are already programmed, and it is possible that, again, a billion or more will be spent. Naturally, the level of traffic will be a dominant factor in this.

In any event, no one need worry about the progressive spirit of the railroads. It never burned brighter.

Shopping in France

A great many of us, for lack of experience elsewhere, don't adequately realize how lucky we are to live in a country whose economic system is based on free competition, and in which the man who does the best job for his customers is the man who succeeds.

The Saturday Evening Post recently printed an article by Ernest O. Hauser, entitled "The French Are in a Jam," which all Americans could read with profit. Mr. Hauser dealt in some detail with France's economic, social and political problems and upheavals. Among other things, he pointed out that the business philosophy is of the consumer be damned order, and that monopolies and secret ententes "keep prices up where competition would bring them down with a bang." He used French retailing as an example, writing, "In France, the customer is always wrong. No supermarkets, no ordering by phone, no delivery service, no bargain basement, no bargains. No ads telling you what would be a good buy today. Installment buying is scarcely known. . . . There are few chain stores—a special tax keeps them from flourishing. Nine out of every ten shops, are papa-and-mamma affairs charging whatever price the traffic will bear. . . . Small wonder that the housewife, faced with unattractive displays, unhygienic handling, steep prices and little choice, only has to rifle through the advertising pages of an American magazine, to wish herself 3000 miles away."

Next time you go shopping, remember that—and count your blessings.

Incentive to Take Risks

The discovery of oil in the Williston Basin, in North Dakota and adjacent area, has been given a great amount of national attention. The Basin may represent one of the greatest oil strikes of all time. As yet, no one knows or can know just how much oil is there, and many more wildcat wells will have to be drilled before the answer is provided.

To drill those wells, and to provide all the facilities and services that go along with them, will cost great sums of money. And the money in this case is what is known as risk capital. In other words, the people who put up understand that, if the goddess of luck turns her face away, they will suffer heavy losses. And they will take the chance, naturally, only if they see a possibility of earning a good profit if success follows.

There is a highly important factor here that few of us think about. That is the 27½ per cent depletion allowance which is permitted oil companies in their conduct of development and exploration work. The allowance—which Congress after Congress has approved—applies against taxes. And the reason for it is simply that the oil business involves unavoidable financial hazards of an unusual nature. Most wildcat wells turn out dry and useless. The life of a well is uncertain. The depletion allowance, therefore, is designed to offer a reasonable and essential reward for taking risks.

What would happen if the allowance were repealed? The answer is unequivocal. Discovery and development of new fields would slow. And our oil reserves would start to drop from their present record level.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

Today I will take my senator and congressman on my knee and do some talking my ownself—they have had their turn. And I'll say this, brothers, I'll say, this land of the free is not as free as it used to be and even where it is free for an honore like myself to spend his remaining do-ri-me remaining after taxes, this same remaining coin of the realm buys only half as much. I'll light into 'em.

I'll say to these 2 guys representing me there in Spend-town-on-the-Old-Potomac, how-come, I'll say, you don't rise up and get Sambo and a dozen or 2 governors and a flock of mayors out of doin's where they have no iota of business—like many towns and the Govt. making kilowatts—lending money—writing insurance—propin' crops—donating airports—and what have you, while the rest of us yokels make up for all lost taxes. None of these grand and glorious projects pay taxes.

Get off the dime, I'll say to these 2 brothers—get moving, speed up the sale of 2 or 3 billion bucks worth of Socialist tainted Govt. fumididdles. Get out of these Europe-type things that bog 'em down there—and where in France and Italy the average gas tank gets one gallon versus the 10 we get here as we drive up to the pumps. Time's a fleetin'—as we say hereabouts at the Grove.

Yours with the low down,

JOE SERRA

ington and had lunch at the Pentagon.

"In the afternoon, we started the long drive to Mt. Vernon which is fifteen miles south of Washington overlooking the Potomac River. The best remaining example of the plantations around which centered the highly developed social and economic life of the South in the eighteenth century is illustrated here at Mount Vernon. Next, we headed for old Georgetown Park, a suburb of Washington which is still preserved according to the mode of living around the turn of the century."

"To conclude the day, we drove around the famous cherry trees which border the Tidal Basin."

"On Thursday we didn't have to report to the American Legion Building until 11 a. m., so we decided to do more sightseeing. We visited the White House and the United States Treasury Building."

When we arrived at the Legion building, Mr. Robert Lutey drove us to the Capitol where he had made arrangements to have our picture taken with either Senators Dirksen or Douglas. Senator Dirksen was unavailable but Senator Douglas told Mr. Lutey that he had to attend a short conference but would be free afterwards for the picture. In the meantime, Mr. Lutey tried to locate Rep. Marguerite Church but she was home in Illinois. After waiting for an hour, the photographer became impatient and suggested we take the picture regardless. We did. Mr. Lutey brought us to the Senate Restaurant in the Capitol and managed to arrange a tour through the Capitol for us. We stopped at the Library of Congress and obtained a copy-right for my musical composition, "Lonely."

"On Friday morning, my aunt and I visited the Smithsonian Institution and ate lunch at the National Art Gallery. We stopped at the American Legion Building to say goodby to Mrs. Lowe and her staff who had been so accommodating towards us.

"We had a few hours. Heading towards the outskirts, we drove to the Catholic University of America, the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception, and the Franciscan Monastery. We came back to the main section of the city and visited the Lincoln Museum and the House where Lincoln died. Truly a great experience for anyone from the state of Illinois, land of Lincoln."

"We closed the door to our room, to the hotel, and stepped into a waiting cab and headed for the Washington National Airport. We boarded the plane at 10:30 p. m. As we soared into the sky, I looked down to catch a final glimpse of Washington as I would always remember it...

ington and had lunch at the Pentagon

"In the afternoon, we started the long drive to Mt. Vernon which is fifteen miles south of Washington overlooking the Potomac River. The best remaining example of the plantations around which centered the highly developed social and economic life of the South in the eighteenth century is illustrated here at Mount Vernon. Next, we headed for old Georgetown Park, a suburb of Washington which is still preserved according to the mode of living around the turn of the century."

"To conclude the day, we drove around the famous cherry trees which border the Tidal Basin."

"On Thursday we didn't have to report to the American Legion Building until 11 a.m., so we decided to do more sightseeing. We visited the White House and the United States Treasury Building."

When we arrived at the Legion building, Mr. Robert Lutey drove us to the Capitol where he had made arrangements to have our picture taken with either Senators Dirksen or Douglas. Senator Dirksen was unavailable but Senator Douglas told Mr. Lutey that he had to attend a short conference but would be free afterwards for the picture. In the meantime, Mr. Lutey tried to locate Rep. Marguerite Church but she was home in Illinois. After waiting for an hour, the photographer became impatient and suggested we take the picture regardless. We did. Mr. Lutey brought us to the Senate Restaurant in the Capitol and managed to arrange a tour through the Capitol for us. We stopped at the Library of Congress and obtained a copyright for my musical composition, 'Lonely'."

"On Friday morning, my aunt and I visited the Smithsonian Institution and ate lunch at the National Art Gallery. We stopped at the American Legion Building to say goodby to Mrs. Lowe and her staff who had been so accommodating towards us."

"We had a few hours. Heading towards the outskirts, we drove to the Catholic University of America, the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception, and the Franciscan Monastery. We came back to the main section of the city and visited the Lincoln Museum and the House where Lincoln died. Truly a great experience for anyone from the state of Illinois, land of Lincoln."

"We closed the door to our room, to the hotel, and stepped into a waiting cab and headed for the Washington National Airport. We boarded the plane at 10:30 p.m. As we soared into the sky, I looked down to catch a final glimpse of Washington as I would always remember it..."

"I will always be grateful to the Antioch American Legion for making this trip possible for my aunt and myself. May the American Legion Carnival Queen of 1954 have as much fun as I did in Washington."

Budweiser Lager Beer... Brewed by our original process from the Choicest Hops, Rice and Best Barley Malt

That proud statement on the Budweiser label means that only the world's very best hops, brewer's rice and barley malt are bought for Budweiser—all the time.

The word "lager" on that label is important to you, too. It means that your bottle of Budweiser is a true lager beer, having obtained natural carbonation and clarification during a prolonged lager period. This process brings Budweiser to the peak of fine taste.

Yes, Budweiser is brewed by the costliest process on Earth. And, as you would expect, Budweiser has been bought and enjoyed by more people than any other beer in history.

Wrestling Season at Round Lake Park Will Open Tomorrow Night

The wrestling season will return with a gusto to Round Lake Park Friday night, with eight behemoths of the national TV scenes swinging into action at Lake County Stadium.

Pat O'Connor, former New Zealand champ, is probably the best-known of the lot, and Benito Gardini of Baltimore the most colorful. Stars of this nature have drawn packed houses in more than 30 states, enabling wrestling to outdraw most other sports last year.

The Round Lake show, promoted by Fred Kohler, mogul of Chicago wrestlingdom and rated the country's No. 1 wrestling chief, will continue through the summer, each Friday night, beginning at 8:30 p. m. Kohler will bring many of the richest names in the industry to Round Lake.

O'Connor figures among the best five matmen in the land, a strong contender for the world diadem. He was a rugby and rowing star at Massey University in New Zealand.
